Volume One: Lays out the format for all three volumes. Luella Dunham's "Talks About Pompey" of 1879 are numbered on a map of the Pompey Hill hamlet. Chapter one describes the life and work of Miss Dunham who was the correspondent to two newspapers from 1872 to 1883. Materials from two other newspapers have been added. Chapter two presents papers and recollections of the pioneer period of Pompey's history. Thereafter follows a numbered tour of the houses 1 to 38. The volume concludes with 75 pages devoted to the Pompey Academy, chartered 1811 with programs and catalogs reproduced. Its centennial celebration of 1911 is noted. The volume includes 362 pages, 225 photographs printed in color and at high resolution, an 15 other illustrations.

Volume Two: Continues Luella Dunham's historical tour of 1879 as numbered 41 to 62. Gives extensive accounts of the Pompey Hill churches and the historical celebrations 1904-1912 of Rev. George S. Mahon. The Beard "stone store", the cemetery, farming, and other topics are discussed. The volume includes 368 pages, 171 high resolution color photographs, and 10 other illustrations.

Volume Three: This volume concludes Luella Dunham's historical tour of 1879 with added information from other Pompey Hill correspondents. The topics discussed include: one hundred years of Pompey weather, Pompey to the north along Sweet Road, the Reunion of 1871 and "Pompey Greats", Civil War era, Pompey to the east, Pompey to the south. The volume includes 398 pages, 254 high resolution color photographs, and 13 other illustrations.
